

Improving your property for sustainable living

Retrofit your home to improve the energy efficiency

Independent experts from the University of Greenwich (Faculty of Engineering and Science) will explain how to get started and provide information about insulation, building fabric, heating systems, smart buildings, self-generation and more, as well as offering a Q&A. The aim is to help you invest in the changes that make the most sense for your lifestyle and property.

Speakers

- Dr Wim J.C. Melis Associate Professor of Holistic Design
- Mohammad Sakikhales Lecturer in Construction Management and Property Development
